PUBLIC INFORMATION DISPLAYS DIGITAL DIRECTION SYSTEMS

Public Information Displays

Public information displays sweeten the wait – whether at the bus stop, the train station, or the airport. They bring entertainment to countless public places and thus provide a positive experience for the viewers. Alternatively, from a practical point of view, they ensure that the viewers quickly receive the information relevant to them.

Digital Direction Systems

ENTRANCE AREAS CONFERENCE AND MEETING ROOMS

Entrance Areas

Let visitors know what is waiting for them. A screen in your entrance area can welcome and engages every visitor with the initial brand messages your organization wishes to communicate. It can indicate the current location in the building or guide visitors to their destination. Or it can simply serve to entertain guests. In any case, it can ensure that visitors feel they are being well taken care of.

Conference and Meeting Rooms

Get the attention of your clients and employees the very moment they set foot in your conference room with one of our indoor LED solutions. Fascinate them with a presentation in high definition and brilliant colors, and make a lasting impression.
